PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE,
And Agency of the U S Patent Office, Washington.
22 State Street—Boston.

THE subscriber by appointment from the Commissioner of Patents is Agent of the U S Patent Office for the purpose of receiving and forwarding to the same all such models, specimens of ingredients and manufactures as shall be intended to be patented, or deposited therein, which will be received and forwarded, free of expense and risk, to their owners and with all possible despatch. The subscriber will prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings, will make researches into American and Foreign works to establish the validity or utility of inventions and render advice on all legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at the office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. The experience of fifteen years' practice—an extensive collection of rare works, documents, decisions, &c. on mechanical subjects and the Patent Laws—and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, and to which daily additions are being made, together with accurate records kept of inventions patented at Washington enable me to afford important assistance and information to inventors desirous of securing Patents which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

WHIG CAUCUS.

THE WHIGS OF BANGOR—one and all—are notified that there will be a Public Caucus of the Party, at the CITY HALL, on SATURDAY EVENING, March 4th, at half past seven o'clock to take into consideration the subject of the approaching Municipal Election—to choose a City Committee—and to take such measures for nominating candidates, and making such arrangements for securing their election, as may be deemed proper.

Per Order of the Whig City Committee

Bangor, Feb'y 28, 1848

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23, 1848

DEAR SIR

The administration, it is said, are very much dissatisfied with Gen Cass as a leader in the Senate, and a very general regret is expressed that your Representative is not in the upper branch, that he might occupy a position he is so well qualified to adorn and to which he would unquestionably be called by the majority party.

He is greatly embarrassed with the question of who shall be the Postmaster of Bangor, and feels that it is asking too much of him to require that he shall take sides with either of the applicants, for thereby he would lose the friendship and support of all but the favored party.

Gen Miller, it is confidently said, will be reappointed—so much for the voice of the people with the "Democracy."

The Taylor feeling here is stronger than I expected to find it. A large portion of the Whig members of Congress favor his nomination—Some of them, as Gentry, of Tennessee, and Stewart, of Pennsylvania, go so far in their Taylorism, and are so violent and uncompromising in their language, as to do serious injury, in the opinion of many, to the cause of the General.

There is a good deal of speculation here as to the probable fate of the Treaty. The Administration desire its defeat, but may not have the courage to take a decided stand against it. It is thought our Senators will vote for it.

Eight o'clock, P M.—J Q Adams is dead. The voice of the "old man eloquent" shall be heard no more. He was happy in the circumstances of his death, dying literally, with the harness on—in the service of his country, and on the theatre of his glory. He was in the act of rising up to address the House when he received the stroke from which he never recovered—his last words were, "THIS IS THE LAST OF EARTH—I AM CONTENT." He laid in the Speaker's room in a state of insensibility, till a quarter after seven this evening, when he passed

"From sunshine to the sunless land."

The usual announcements will made to-morrow, and the funeral will take place on Saturday.

Yours, W.

Whig Caucus.

At the request of a large number of Whigs, the City Committee have changed the time for the meeting of the general Caucus of the Whigs to Saturday evening next, the fourth of March.

It is very desirable that the Whigs of Bangor should begin to stir themselves in reference to the Municipal Election. There should be immediate measures taken to effect an organization, that the full strength of the Whigs may be brought out at the approaching election. The Whigs have a political issue thrust upon them the present year, and they must meet and overcome it, and this they can do by making the necessary exertion. There is no time to be lost in effecting an organization, for every element of opposition will be brought to bear against them in the coming trial. All must take hold with an earnestness and zeal which shall deserve and secure success. Remember Saturday night, and let every Whig rally to the meeting, and make the necessary preparations for an old fashioned Whig victory in Bangor.

☞ We find crowding upon us a great mass of highly interesting matter relative to Mr Adams whose death has caused a nation to mourn. Our columns cannot contain all the matter and it is difficult for us to make a selection. The article we copy from the N Y Tribune embraces, we believe, the principal events in the life of Mr Adams in about as compact a form as we have seen them presented.

Very general notice has been taken by State Legislatures, Courts and other public bodies, of the death of Mr Adams. He occupied a place of high regard in the affections and confidence of the whole people.

The Buena Vista festival at Philadelphia on the 22d inst was a very agreeable affair, according to the North American newspaper. Some seven hundred persons were seated at the tables. Speeches were made by Mr Hilliard of Alabama and Mr Cook of Tennessee, and a letter from Gen Taylor to Mr Ingersoll was read by Hon Mr Brown of Tennessee at the conclusion of his speech. This letter we shall publish soon.

Col James Watson Webb displeased a large portion of the meeting by his remarks, and they gave significance to the determination of the meeting to recognize the coming convention as the tribunal for settling the nomination of the candidate for the Presidency.

☞ The New York Globe a locofoco paper, states on the authority of its correspondent at Washington that Gen Scott had no hand in making the treaty, but that it is the official act of Mr Trist under the President's private instructions—at least so it is believed by some who ought to be well informed on the subject. The cabinet had been kept wholly ignorant of the confidential understanding between the President and Mr Trist and they were surprised at the denouement.

☞ Schr. Mary Stuart, of Lubec, or vicinity, at Philadelphia from Turks Island, reports very heavy weather on the passage, and lost a number of sails. Mr Andrew Balch first officer, fell overboard and was drowned. It is further stated that "eight of the crew [a very large crew for a schr.] died on the passage." If so, it is difficult to conceive how the vessel was worked home.

☞ The Oregon territory bill is to be finally considered on the 14th of March. It contains a section prohibiting slavery—it appropriates $5000 for a library, and $3000 for public buildings at the seat of government, and the general tenor of the bill in other respects resembles previous acts for like objects.

☞ We would direct the attention of our numerous Lady readers to the advertisement of F H Blanchard & Co., to be found in our columns.

Reception of Henry Clay at Philadelphia.

On Thursday the 24th inst., Hon. Henry Clay visited the city of Philadelphia. All along upon the route on his way he was met by thousands upon thousands of people and hailed with [illegible].

The North American thus speaks of his entrance into the city.—

"The car reached the corner of Broad and [illegible] streets at a quarter [illegible]. The sight that presented itself here baffles description. There must have been ten thousand people assembled; An immense mounted cavalcade was in waiting, and besides the dense mass on the spot at this point, so far up Broad street as the eye could penetrate, there was an uninterrupted array of horsemen and vehicles, and a dark sea of animate heads.

It was with the utmost difficulty that Mr Clay could make his way from the cars to the barouche in which he was to ride. As he made his appearance the air was rent with plaudits, and when the barouche drove off, the crowd hung to it, and pressed after it with such vehemence as to almost capsize it.

From one end of the route to the other, the streets through which it passed were so densely packed that the procession had to be halted every few minutes, and a passage was literally forced through the living multitude. The welcoming huzzaing sounded like the roar of waters. From every door, window and balcony, white kerchiefs were waved by the ladies, and from numbers of houses along the route, wreaths and bouquets were thrown to Mr Clay.

When the head of the procession reached the residence of Mayor Swift, the horsemen filed on one side of the street, and let the carriages pass. The street, the entire length of the square from Locust to Walnut, was crowded, and in front of the mansion of the Mayor—the home of Mr Clay during his sojourn in Philadelphia—the people were actually piled one upon another.

Mr Clay got into the house with extreme difficulty, so completely exhausted as to forbid his addressing the assemblage, who seemed riveted to the spot, and persuasively and pressingly urged that Mr Clay would say a simple word—Mr Clay at last indulged them in a little pleasantry, and they retired."

Taylor Demonstration at New York.

On Tuesday evening, 22d inst., there was a public meeting in New York, at Niblo's garden for the purpose of making a demonstration in favor of Gen Taylor for the Presidency. The weather was stormy and forbidding, a few thousand persons however, attended. The meeting was organized by the choice of Hugh Maxwell, Esq., President and the appointment of a large number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

An eloquent address was read and adopted—Speeches were made by Hon Ogden Hoffman and by Hon Meredith P Gentry, M C, from Tennessee. A series of spirited resolutions were adopted, from which we select the following:—

Resolved, that in the selection of a candidate for the Presidential canvass of 1848, the Whig National Convention should aim to present a man whose name will unite the great body of the Whigs in every section of our common country, and at the same time secure the support of that portion of the people hitherto acting with other parties, who would gladly vote in opposition to the present Administration if a any candidate in whose character, ability, and patriotism they should have full confidence.

Resolved, That in Zachary Taylor the Whigs would have a candidate in whom all these qualities are combined—in whose simple republican habits in private life, and whose integrity, ability and devotion to the good of the country the great body of the American people, without distinction of party, have the most unwavering confidence—who has declared himself to sympathize and in feeling a Republican and a Whig—with whom the good of country would always outweigh any merely partisan schemes—whose most earnest efforts and elevated position would enable him to bring about what he has publicly declared he desires to see, a speedy and a lasting peace with Mexico, upon terms which should secure the rights and interests of both Republics—whose nomination by the Whig Convention would render morally certain his election by an overwhelming majority of the people, and whose election, so effected, would secure the safety, promote the prosperity, and elevate the character of our common country.

Resolved, That the abilities, good sense, modesty and sound judgment exhibited in the despatches, correspondence and official papers of General Taylor, shew conclusively not only the native vigor of his mind that the high character of his attainments and fitness, second only to that of the Father of his Country, to discharge the duties of any civil station to which he may be elevated by the American people.

Death of Mr. Adams—Interesting Incident.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American relates the following interesting incident connected with the scene at the death-bed of the late John Quincy Adams.

"During the night, the watchful anxiety of the physicians, the Massachusetts Delegation, the Speaker of the House, and numerous citizens, was unwearied. A number of youth were also in attendance.

"Within a few feet of the bed there sat, during the whole night, an interesting boy,—probably 15,—watching every motion and every breath of the Ex President. I was informed he was one of the pages who has been remarkable for his attention to Mr Adams, ever since the session commenced."

☞ We learn that a sort of Josler hanging about the lumbermens' camps in the woods, a few miles from Orono, recently struck at a man with an axe and nearly severed his arm near the shoulder. We have not heard of his arrest.

☞ At the Loco caucus on Saturday evening the Anti-Wilmot Proviso section of the party succeeded in choosing delegates to the District Convention.

☞ The parishioners of Rev Mr Tenney of Ellsworth have recently made him an agreeable donation visit.

Lines written on hearing of the Death of J. Q. Adams.

Come my Countrymen, and gather round his bier.
The "Old man eloquent" is eloquent in death.
Come every one,
Ye who loved him as he lived,
And Ye who differed from him,
Let there be no difference now.
Come gather round his grave
And for him fallen, drop a tear.
Ye southern glens, and you
Ye snow topped hills and you,
Ye western plains and you,
Ye eastern land, where he
Was wont to dwell,
Come gather all to his vast funeral.

The brightest in thy galaxy;
Thou shalt not claim him all,

From the New York Tribune

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Another [illegible] almost the only link which binds the political history of one country at present to the past [illegible] her first existence as a nation, has been broken by the death of the venerable statesman. It [illegible] that [illegible] time, with the great men to whom it gave birth, and who have [illegible] the world's history, were removed farther from us, with the departure of one in whom they still lived and spoke. It is the fate of no common life, to contain with [illegible] experience as his embraced;—a growth of a feeble colony, into one of the mightiest empires of all time—the spectacle of a final revolution in the world's political, science and philosophy—the birth and development of a wonderful [illegible]. Yet such a life was his, whose loss we deplore—for whom the nation will mourn, as one—whose memory will become a part of our children's heritage, and whose labors will stand as a pillar, upholding the majesty of human Freedom.

John Quincy Adams was born at Braintree (afterward Quincy) Mass on the 11th of July, 1767. He received his name from his great grandfather, John Quincy, who, in the early part of the century, was honored with many civil distinctions from the Governor of the Province, and who died a few hours after the birth of the boy who took his name. His childhood was passed during the stormy times of the revolution, and even as a child he participated in some of its most memorable occurrences. When John Adams was appointed Joint Commissioner to France in 1777, with Franklin and Lee, John Quincy accompanied him, though at the time but eleven years of age. He spent eighteen months in Paris at school, and returned to America with his father in 1779. During this visit he enjoyed the instructions of Franklin, who conceived a strong attachment for his young countryman. In three months after their arrival John Adams was again dispatched by Congress to Europe, and set sail with his son, in a French frigate for Brest. They had a perilous passage, for the ocean was at that time "thronged with British fleets, and their capture was only avoided by the daring and courage of the commander.—The frigate was driven by violent storms into the port of Ferrol, in Spain, whence they travelled by land to Paris. They went soon after to Holland, where he studied for some time in Amsterdam and in the celebrated University of Leyden.

In July, 1781, Francis Dana, (father of Richard H. Dana, the poet,) who had accompanied John Adams as Secretary of Legation, was appointed Minister to Russia, and took with him young John Quincy, then but fourteen years of age, as his private Secretary. After a year's residence in St Petersburgh, he left Mr Dana, and in the fall of 1782 and the following winter travelled alone through Sweden, Denmark and Hamburg to Holland, where he arrived in April. His father was then in Paris, but visiting the Hague in July he took his son with him on his return. The treaty of peace was signed in Sept., and from that time, till May, 1785, he resided with his father in England and France, having intercourse with the most distinguished society of those countries. In London he was introduced upon the floor of Parliament, and heard some of the finest efforts of Pitt, Burke, Fox and Sheridan. His acquaintance with Jefferson, who was then Minister to France, dates from this period and he was afterwards strongly recommended to the notice of Washington by that great statesman.

When his father was appointed Minister to the Court of St James, in 1785, as he was desirous of completing his education in his native country, he obtained permission to return. He entered an advanced class in Harvard University and graduated at the end of two years.—Making choice of the law for his profession, he studied in the office of the celebrated Theophilus Parsons of Newburyport, and afterwards established himself in Boston, where he remained four years, satisfying himself with extending his knowledge of the principles of law, and writing occasional political essays. But when, in 1794, the country was aroused and excited by the appeals of the French Minister, Genet, Mr Adams entered the field with three articles under the signature of "Marcellus," in which he set forth, what has since been a prominent part of his political creed—the obligation of neutrality concerning the policy or conflicts of other nations. In these letters he anticipated the precise course which was recommended by Washington and agreed to by his cabinet. His reputation for clear judgment and political foresight, thus honorably established, introduced him to the notice of Washington, to whose esteem and confidence he was at once admitted.

At the recommendation of Jefferson, he was appointed Minister to Holland, in May 1794, and from that time until 1801 remained abroad, serving the country in various diplomatic capacities. Immediately before the expiration of Washington's term he received the appointment of Minister to Portugal, but while on his way to Lisbon, his destination was changed by President Adams to Berlin, where he resided four years. During this period he visited the Riesengebirge, the wild mountain district of Silesia, the haunt of German fairy tradition, which at that time was hardly known to tourists. He was the first American who ascended the Schneekoppe, which he considered the highest mountain in Central Europe, north of the Danube. His letters descriptive of this tour appeared in the Port folio, published in Philadelphia, but were afterwards published in a volume, which was reprinted in London, and translated into French and German. His position in Europe at this time enabled him to look upon the great scenes enacted around him, as an unprejudiced spectator, and his calm, philosophic mind improved this opportunity of studying a terrible page in modern history. He supported the character of his country abroad with dignity and honor, and returned divested of party prejudice by his long absence, and glowing with a spirit of the most pure and single minded patriotism.

His friends did not allow him to pause in the career which had been marked out for him both by nature and education. He was elected to the Massachusetts Senate in 1802 and in the same year to the Senate of the United States.—In addition to this high distinction he was appointed Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory in Harvard University, and during the recesses of Congress delivered a series of lectures which were attended by crowded audiences, and afterward published in two octavo volumes. A course which he delivered on the "Art of Good Speaking," was exceedingly popular, and his own fine oratorical talents enabled him to do the subject full justice.

His course in the Senate was in harmony with the circumstances of his election. He was unpledged to the support of any particular men or measures, though considered a moderate Federalist, and chosen Senator by a majority of that party. But his long experience of public life and the principles of Government placed him above the dictation of party, and his course was independent, and marked by a conscientious adherence to his sense of right and duty.

For his course in relation to the Embargo he received the censure of the Massachusetts Legislature, and on this account resigned his seat in 1808. Immediately after Madison's accession to the Presidency in 1809, he received the appointment of Minister to Russia, and during his residence of five years in St. Petersburg, he enjoyed the confidence of the Emperor Alexander to a degree seldom bestowed upon the representatives of other nations. It was this esteem which induced the Emperor, after the Peace of 1812, to offer his mediation in the then existing war between the United States and England. Though this was declined by England, it produced an offer on her part of direct negotiation, and John Quincy Adams was placed at the head of the Commissioners who met at Ghent. Singularly enough he occupied the same situation as his father thirty years before, and [illegible] with equal [illegible].

In February, 1815, he was appointed Minister to Great Britain, and remained to act in that capacity until Monroe's accession, in 1817, when he was recalled in order to serve the country in a more exalted and important station—that of Secretary of State, which is only second in responsibility to the Executive office itself. His long absence abroad rendered him better competent to conduct our relation with foreign nations than any statesman our country has ever produced.

During the eight years of his service as Secretary of State, he retained the full confidence of Mr Monroe and assisted in the accomplishment of measures which have contributed to our national glory and prosperity. We need only mention the recognition of the independence of the South American Republics, first advocated by Henry Clay in the House of Representatives, and the successful acquisition of Florida and the adjustment of the Spanish claims, to point out the importance and value of his official labors.

When the time of Monroe's retirement drew near, the claims of Mr Adams to the high office could not be overlooked. His long and eminent services, firm integrity of principle and lofty patriotism made him the choice of all intelligent and calm thinking men. From the popularity of Jackson, Crawford, and Clay, each of whom was the candidate of a large party, the electoral colleges were able to make no nomination, and the question devolved on Congress. At the first ballot Mr Adams received the votes of thirteen States, which constituted a majority. A Committee of the House accordingly waited upon him to notify him of his election and, [illegible] answer of acceptance.

During the four years of his administration he preserved the same calm balance of judgment, the same undeviating attachment to principle, which had distinguished his former political life. His course was moderate, dignified, and characterized by great republican simplicity. The financial affairs of the nation were conducted with the strictest integrity, large sums were expended upon our internal improvements—more indeed was effected in the permanent improvement of the country than during all the administrations of his predecessors; upward of five millions of dollars were appropriated in pensions and private bounties, and yet thirty millions of the national debt had been paid off at the end of his term. The violent and bitter opposition he met with is well known. The friends of Jackson and Crawford combined in a hostility to the measures of his administration, which rested not until it had procured his defeat at the Presidential election in 1828. The effect of this unprincipled partisan feeling, in its opposition to the high liberal aims of Mr Adams was felt in the embarrassments which were brought on the country by his successor. Some later historian, scanning this period with an unprejudiced eye, will do full honor to his acts, and the high principles by which he was governed.

After Jackson's inauguration he retired to the old homestead at Quincy, where he passed a year or two in the enjoyment of tranquil domestic life, and surrounded with the happiest social relations. But such a man as he could not be spared long from the Councils of the Nation. In 1830 he was elected to represent the Congressional District in which he resided, and in the following year took his seat in the House of Representatives. Since then he has been elected to nine successive Congressional terms the duties of which he has faithfully performed till, after sixty seven years spent in the service of his country, he has died with his hand to her labors—his last words uttered in her Hall of Council.

His acts in the House of Representatives are part of the knowledge of every American.—They will be cited, in after years, as noble examples of that exalted honesty which can sacrifice everything in pursuance of what it believes to be just and true. It was owing to his persevering efforts alone that the disgraceful gag law was removed from the statutes of Congress; and there is scarcely a more thrilling incident in the history of legislation than the effect of his eloquent reply to the dark menaces of the Southern spirit.

Despite the violent opposition and enmity which his upright and independent career excited, we doubt whether any man has been more universally venerated and beloved. There is no sublimer instance of popular affection on record, than was exhibited during his visit to the West, a few years ago. The spontaneous expression of love and reverence which men of all creeds and parties offered to the old man, gave his journey the character of a triumphal march—but a grander march than ever followed the laden chariots of the ancient victors of the world, along the Appian or Flaminian way. It was one of those spectacles of a nation's gratitude, which rarely occur more than once in an era—an expression of such deep and touching feeling, and such fervent enthusiasm as could have been exhibited by no other people on the earth.

His youth, almost his childhood was consecrated to his country's service; his long life and wonderful energies have been consumed in building up the fabric of her greatness, and he has drawn his last breath under the shelter of her legislative dome. His nearer relatives will lament his departure, but she will be left most vacant at his loss—she will be chief mourner beside his grave.

☞ In relation to the sch Mary Brooks, of Searsport, we now learn from a reliable source, that she sailed from Searsport, Nov 27th, for Cardenas, since which nothing has been heard from her, and we must come to the sad conclusion that she is lost with all on board. Our former supposition that the M B was safe, was based on the report of the Boston Adv., that she sailed "prior to Jan 2." —— Pendleton, of Searsport, was master, and Green Stowers, of Prospect, first mate. We do not know the names of the rest of the crew.

FARMING AND WOOD LAND, FOR SALE.

ONE HUNDRED and forty or fifty acres of good LAND about two miles East of Broadway, in Bangor, on the new County Road to Orono, and in sight of Coombs' Mills. The great and increasing demand for wood in this city, makes it a greater object for farming as the hauling of the wood prepares the land for cultivation.

The land will be sold in quantities to suit purchasers. A few years will enable those who secure even small lots of land so near, how to appreciate the advantages.

Permanent Cure of Dyspepsia and habitual Costiveness.

To Dr Ralph.

DEAR SIR—I have, myself, almost no occasion for your inestimable Pills. I have used them say six years, as occasion dictated; and I have reason to suppose they have wrought a thorough and permanent change in respect to the functions of the stomach. From habitual costiveness, and the warding of nauseous medicines to do it, I am completely relieved. The multifarious symptoms of Dyspepsia, with which I was once too well acquainted, have so entirely passed away, that I hardly know what they were. Any use you can make of this, or a more full development of my case, is at your service.

Except in an obstetric case your book (Family Physician) and Pills have been the only physician in my house for six years.

There are many of my friends around, and more and more, who call for your Pills as a family medicine, and for chronic cases. Yours truly,

Horatio Waldo.

Kirkbride's Tattersall's HEAVE POWDERS;

A SAFE, SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE for Heaves, Broken Wind, Chronic Cough, Colds, and all diseases [illegible] of the lungs, [illegible]

Soundness of the Animal's Wind.

This remedy which has been [illegible] remarkable success in England, is now offered to Horse owners in the United States as a positive specific for those obstinate and distressing complaints. From the combination of powerful vegetable ingredients in its composition, it is enabled to compete successfully with disease in the harsh constitution of the Horse, and at the same time, is warranted to be perfectly safe and gentle in operation, [illegible] by Horses and other cattle, and does not at all interfere with the animal, or debar him from usual labor. The following is one amongst many proofs we have of its efficacy. It is from one of the best Farriers in New York, and a gentleman whose knowledge in the medical treatment of Horses is very extensive.

New York, Nov 1 1847.

Messrs A. B. Gough & Co.

Gentlemen—You will recollect that I bought a package of your Heave Powders some time ago to administer to a valuable horse of [illegible] in my stables, and that I was quite dubious of the wisdom of attempting to cure such a bad case as his was, and did not, in fact believe there was any medicine in being for his complaint than this. I had been in the habit of using [illegible] my experience [illegible] with Horses. But in [illegible] to you and your valuable remedy, I am free to say that that single package cured the animal of an aggravated case of [illegible] which has used is now perfectly good. I believe the cure is a permanent one.

Respectfully, ED FLOYD, 102 [illegible]

Messrs A. B. Gough & Co—Gents: I bought, about six weeks ago, a package of Heave Powders to administer to a valuable horse, which had been troubled with [illegible] more than two years. His case was a very bad one, and so severe as to prevent him from half his usual labor, and had tried all the remedies ordinarily used for such diseases, but [illegible] to slightly diminish the violence of the heaving while taking the medicine, but this package of yours nearly has completely eradicated the disease, and now his wind is as good as ever it was. It is a month since he has taken the Powders, and I consider him sound.

Am. truly, GEO W. [illegible]

GREAT CONDITION MEDICINE.

Besides their specific action upon the diseases of the lungs and windpipe, the Tattersall's Heave Powders, from their great alterative and restorative properties, are an effectual in horses as sarsaparilla [illegible] in the human race for their many [illegible] of the blood and predisposition to disease. [illegible] of [illegible] of the Heave Powders, [illegible] a condition medicine they are unequalled, especially when a tight hide, staring coat, loss of appetite, etc., denote a derangement of the digestive functions, etc. [illegible] and worms in the [illegible] described in the following certificate.

Messrs A. B. Gough & Co—The package of your Heave Powders that I bought of you for my horse's cough has entirely cured him, but in a different way than I expected. The first dose of Heave Powders [illegible] a number of worms from him, and [illegible] the cough, cough and [illegible], which he exhibited, for that package has entirely cured him, [illegible] I [illegible] in [illegible]. [illegible] fully recommend your Heave Powders for worms as well as heaves. Yours, SAM'L ROBERTS.

East Hempstead, L. I., Oct 26, 1847.

☞CAUTION. As several imitations of this valuable and popular medicine are [illegible] under the name of "Heave Cure," "Heave Powders," &c., purchasers are cautioned [illegible] remedy but Kirkbride's Tattersall's Heave Powders.

None are genuine without this [illegible] signature. Price $1 per package of sufficient [illegible] ordinary case, 6 for $5 dolls.

DEAFNESS CAN BE CURED!

COOPER'S ETHEREAL OIL—A great and lasting remedy for DEAFNESS, [illegible] pains and discharge of matter from the Ear.

Hundreds of cures in cases of deafness [illegible] have firmly established its superiority over every former [illegible] discovery.

This valuable Acoustic Medicine is compounded of four different Oils, one of which the active and principal ingredient is obtained from the back of a curious species of Whale, a new and efficient agent in the cure of Deafness.

Persons who have been deaf for 10, 15 and even 20 years, have been permanently cured by using this Oil. In fact, so numerous and triumphant have been the instances [illegible] that the [illegible] claims for it the distinction of an Infallible Remedy in all cases, where the Ear is perfect in its formation.

M'Allister's ALL-HEALING Ointment,

FOR THE CURE OF Colds, coughs, consumptions, [illegible], scurvy, and all cutaneous eruptions, for bruises, [illegible], ulcers, sores of all kinds, and general [illegible] debility.

This celebrated Ointment has a most striking effect upon the blood, in removing it from all impurities upon the surface of fluid, which lubricates the [illegible] secretes, diffuses soreness of [illegible] the lymphatic [illegible] or glands, promoting the free and healthy secretion of the lymphatic fluid, and thus removes swelling of the glands about the neck, the groins, the axilla or under the arm about the ear, and all other parts of the body.

This All-Healing Ointment is equally efficacious in promoting the secretions of the kidneys, relieving from retention of urine, and by restoring the tone and function of the urinary organs, thus preventing incontinence of urine. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the nervous system by curing neuralgia, St. Vitus's dance, palsy, paralysis, numbness or want of feeling or power of motion from some local or general affection of the nervous system. It acts with great power on all the fluids and solids of the body, and attacks disease in whatever part located, whether on the surface or internal organs.

We speak the things which we know of the astounding efficacy of this justly celebrated, invaluable and worthily named "ALL-HEALING OINTMENT." DR. CUMMINGS'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and Dock.

THE articles above named are the principal ingredients of this medicine. With these, others of vegetable origin are combined, designed to render them more active, and consequently more immediately effective.

The Dock, or rather a species of it, now ranks as a medicinal plant second to none of the vegetable kingdom. With the aid of a distinguished chemist, whom the proprietor has consulted in the preparation of the compound, he has succeeded in overcoming the difficulty of preserving the extract of the root for any considerable length of time.

For many years the proprietor has tested in his practice the efficacy of the several substances of the compound, and is perfectly satisfied that they possess all the properties which have been ascribed to them. Recently he [illegible] the idea of uniting them, which has resulted in the production of the compound. In this the ingredients are found to act in harmony, and to lose none of the qualities which they separately possess.

A larger portion of Sarsaparilla is soluble than has generally been supposed. The extract must to be relied on, and least liable to decomposition, is procured by subjecting the root to the action of the menstrua usually employed in extracting its virtues for a long time, without heat or any other accelerating agent. None is permitted to be used in the compound, that has not been obtained by this process and that has been less than a year in preparation.

The Compound is recommended for Scrofula, Erysipelas, Ulcerous affections, Eruptions and Mercurial diseases. Also for the numerous ills [illegible] cold, overtasking the physical powers, and other abuses of the constitution, among which are Neuralgia, Piles, Affections of the Liver, Bilious Complaints and Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

In diseases of warm climates, with which the proprietor became familiar in his practice in Havana, some years since, the compound will prove peculiarly efficacious, both as a remedy and a preventative.

This medicine has been for some time in use in this city, where the proprietor has passed nearly half a century of his professional life. It was extensively prescribed by him while in practice, and it is believed to be in favor with his medical brethren in general to whom he is known.

Dr. Townsend's

SARSAPARILLA,

THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

This extract is put up in quart bottles, it is six times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures diseases without vomiting, purging, sickening or debilitating the patient.

The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other medicines is, while it eradicates disease it invigorates the body. It is one of the very best Fall and Winter medicines ever known; it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it creates new, pure and rich blood; a power possessed by no other medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the past two years, more than 35,000 cures of severe cases of disease; at least 20,000 of these were considered incurable.

More than 3000 cases of Chronic Rheumatism,
2000 cases of Dyspepsia,
4000 cases of General Debility and Want of Energy,
7000 cases of the different Female Complaints,
2000 cases of Scrofula,
1500 cases of the Liver Complaint,
2500 cases of Disease of the Kidneys and Dropsy,
3000 cases of Consumption, and thousands of cases of disease of the blood, viz—Ulcers, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the face, &c. &c., together with numerous cases of sick headache, pain in the side and chest, spinal affections, &c. &c.

This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from physicians and our agents from all parts of the United States, informing us of extraordinary cures. R. Van Buskirk, Esq., one of the most respectable druggists in Newark, N. J., informs us that he can refer to more than 150 cases in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the City of New York, which we will refer to with pleasure, and to men of character. It is the best medicine for the preventive of disease known. It undoubtedly saved the lives of more than as it removed the cause of disease and prepared them for the summer season. It has never been known to injure in the least the most delicate child.

RHEUMATISM.

This Sarsaparilla is used with the most perfect success in rheumatic complaints, however severe or chronic. The astonishing cures it has performed are indeed wonderful. Other remedies sometimes give temporary relief, this entirely eradicates it from the system, even when the limbs and bones are dreadfully swollen.

☞ Hear Mr. Seth Terry, one of the oldest and most respectable lawyers in Hartford, Conn. The following is an extract of a letter received from him:

Dr. Townsend—I have used one bottle of your Sarsaparilla, and I find it excellent in its effects upon a chronic rheumatic pain to which I am subject, from an exposure occasioned by being out on a public stage. Please send me two bottles in the care of Dr. Seymour. I have [illegible] and [illegible] your Sarsaparilla. SETH TERRY.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Cleanse and Strengthen. Consumption can be cured. Bronchitis, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Colds, Catarrh, Coughs, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Soreness in the Chest, Hectic Flush, Night Sweats, Difficult or Profuse Expectoration, Pain in the Side, &c., have been and can be cured.

Dr. Townsend—Dear Sir: Nearly twenty years ago I took a violent cold, which settled on my lungs, and off and on, [illegible], finally it became a constant hacking cough, having a severe one as to prevent me from attending to my business. Within the last few years it increased more gradually. At last I became so reduced, breathed with difficulty, and raised with my cough much blood and matter, and for the last nine months I had severe night sweats, and my friends and myself supposed that I would die with the Consumption; but I have the happiness to inform you that, to my surprise, after using three bottles of your Sarsaparilla, I had my health restored. It relieved me gradually, and I am now enjoying much better health than I have before in 26 years. I had almost entirely lost my appetite, which you also restored. You are at liberty to publish this with my name in the papers, if you choose.

My little girl, who is three years old, had a very bad cough the whole of last Winter. We became very much alarmed on her account, [illegible] and [illegible] beauty, at one child I ever saw. She was also full of little blotches, it took them away, and her skin is smooth and fair now, and I am satisfied she recovered her health from using your excellent medicine.

S. W. CONANT, 418 Bowery.

GIRLS, READ THIS.

You who have pale complexions, dull eyes, blotches on the face, rough skin, and are "out of spirits," use a bottle or two of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla. It will cleanse your blood, remove the freckles and blotches, and give you animation, sparkling eyes, fine spirits, and beautiful complexion—all of which are of immense value to unmarried ladies.

GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE.

Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Leucorrhoea, or Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of inherent cause, or causes produced by irregularity, illness or accident.

Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Persons only all weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervelessness of the female frame, which is the great cause of barrenness.

It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Several cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable medicine, have been blessed with fine, healthy offspring.

Dr. Townsend: My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and suffering continually by pain and a sensation of bearing down, falling of the womb, and with other difficulties, and having known cases where your medicine has effected great cures, and also hearing it recommended for such cases as I have described, I obtained a bottle of your Extract of Sarsaparilla and followed the directions you gave me. In a short period it removed her complaints and restored her to health. Being grateful for the benefits she received, I take pleasure in thus acknowledging it and recommending it to the public. M. D. MOORE.

Albany, Aug 17, 1847 Cor. Grand and Lydius-sts.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

This extract of Sarsaparilla has been expressly prepared in reference to female complaints. No female who has reason to suppose she is approaching that critical period, "the turn of life," should neglect to take it, as it is a certain preventive for any of the numerous and horrible diseases to which females are subject at this time of life. This period may be delayed for several years by using this medicine. Nor is it less valuable to those who are approaching womanhood, as it is calculated to assist nature by quickening the blood and invigorating the system. Indeed this medicine is invaluable for all of the delicate diseases to which women are subject. It braces the whole system, renews permanently the natural energies—by removing the impurities of the body, not so far stimulating the system as to produce subsequent relaxation—which is the case of most medicines taken for female weakness and disease.

SCROFULA CURED.

This Certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsaparilla has perfect control of the most obstinate diseases of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.

THREE CHILDREN.

Dr. Townsend—Dear Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine. They were afflicted very severely with bad sores; have taken only four bottles; it took them away, for which I feel myself under deep obligation. Yours respectfully,

ISAAC W. CRAIN, 106 Wooster-st.

New York, March 1, 1847.

Important to Parents.

WINER'S CANADIAN VERMIFUGE!

A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR WORMS.

THIS remedy is safe in its operation, and more easily administered than any other.

THE GREATEST CAUSE OF DISEASE among children is to be attributed to Worms. They give rise to numerous diseases, and are the more fatal because least suspected; were parents to give this subject more attention, and carefully observe the symptoms which indicate the existence of worms in bowels, the lives of many children would be doubtless saved. Some of the symptoms are as follows: the countenance is of a pale or leaden color, and suffused with occasional flushes, the eyes are heavy and dull, bad breath, itching in the nostrils, the sleep is disturbed, the patient often awakening in great fright, and is liable to starting and grinding the teeth, the appetite is irregular, being sometimes voracious and at other times feeble, occasional vomiting, &c.

Winer's Canadian Vermifuge has acquired a reputation far surpassing that of any other medicine of the kind, and is daily increasing in popularity, wherever it is known and used, it is universally approved. It possesses properties which no other article of the kind does, is more prompt and efficient in its action, and entirely free from ingredients which have any but a beneficial effect, the health of the patient being always improved even when no worms are discovered. Physicians prescribe it, and to use the language of one in high standing, who resides in Cleaveland, Ohio, consider it "the only article of the kind he ever saw that was so uniform and prompt in expelling worms." It may indeed be relied on with the utmost confidence, as it has never been known to fail; this is the reason why all who have used it will not use any other.

We have in our possession a number of certificates from physicians and others of the highest respectability, who all testify to its superior efficacy, and recommend it as a never failing remedy.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

We, the undersigned, have frequently administered a medicine prepared by Mr. John Winer of this town, designated "J. Winer's Canadian Vermifuge," and being fully satisfied with its efficacy, confidently recommend it as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the intestinal canal. G. O'REILEY,

Messrs J. Winer & Co.: Sirs—My child at five years of age, was for more than two years severely afflicted with worms, during which time we gave her different medicines recommended in such cases, but they produced no beneficial effects. I at length procured a bottle of your Canadian Vermifuge, and gave it to her, which caused her to pass a large number of worms, since then she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health. From my own experience, I would recommend your Vermifuge as being the most safe and effectual remedy for worms now in use. Yours truly,

DISEASES OF THE Throat and Lungs.

COUGHS and Colds, the fruitful parents of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy, and many other dangerous diseases, are too often neglected until the foundation of the Specific Complaint is laid deep in the System. A Physician is then called in, who administers a few Palliatives, but declares the disease incurable, and the Patient in confirmation of his opinion, dies. But why does he die? Simply because he does not resort to the proper remedy, but trusts to mere the dicta of a Practitioner rather than the infallible evidence of experience and the most authentic testimony. On this basis is the only true one, the efficacy of have been thoroughly established. Let those who doubt, read the following testimonials, which are merely samples of hundreds of the same nature.

CONSUMPTION

CURED,

Of Twenty Year's Standing!

CITY OF NEW YORK, July 21st 1847.

This is to Certify that I, Nelson Larrabee, of Jersey City, have been subject to a dry hacking cough and a pain in the side and chest, attended with night sweats and general weakness of the system for a period of twenty years, and pronounced INCURABLY CONSUMPTIVE, neither the advice of regular physicians nor the many advertised remedies I have taken have been of any permanent benefit, and I was sinking hopelessly to the progress of my disease when I was persuaded to try Dr. E. W. VONDERSMITH'S INDIAN COUGH BALM AND LUNG BALSAM by the aid of which, all my symptoms have been removed, and I have been wonderfully restored to the blessings of health, and the prospect of a prolonged existence.

In gratitude for which, and in the hope of benefiting others, I solemnly testify to the facts in this certificate. NELSON LARRABEE, Jersey City.

INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS

NEW YORK, June 19 1847

Dr. VONDERSMITH—I have been subject to a cough, pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, &c., for many years past. About four months ago I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was unable to attend to my business during the day. I had bad spells, that I thought I could not possibly survive unless I could get relief. The excessive night sweats had reduced my whole body to a skeleton. I expectorated white frothy mucous, in fact, should I give the full particulars of my case, it would be almost incredible. I was recommended to try Dr. VONDERSMITH'S INDIAN COUGH BALM AND LUNG BALSAM. I consented, when I had used about one week, my cough decreased considerably, which gave me great hopes. I continued with the medicine according to directions, and the result is that I am restored to health, a blessing that I have not enjoyed for years, until the present time. I do not believe had I not made use of Dr. V's Invaluable Medicine, but I would be mouldering in the silent grave. Therefore I believe that I am doing nothing but just so, in stating the above facts, so that I may show it to all the afflicted who may call upon you to administer to them. I shall be pleased at any time to converse with the afflicted who may call upon me.

Your grateful patient and friend,
JAMES B. HENDERSON, No 203 Washington st.

DR. UPHAM'S

Vegetable Internal Remedy FOR THE PILES!

A Cure for Life Secured.

For the cure of Piles, Inflammation of the Liver and Spleen, Inflammation, Soreness and Ulceration of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Bladder, Inflammatory and Mercurial Rheumatism, Impurity of Blood, Weakness and Inflammation of the Spine, and for the relief of Married Ladies.

THE VEGETABLE PILE ELECTUARY

invented by Dr. A. Upham, a distinguished Physician of New York city, is the only really successful remedy for that dangerous and distressing complaint, the Piles, ever offered to the American public.

Mark this: it is an INTERNAL REMEDY—not an external application, and will cure any case of Piles, either bleeding or blind, internal or external, and probably the only thing that will. There is no mistake about it. It is a positive cure—speedy and permanent. It is also a convenient medicine to take, and improves the general health in a remarkable manner.

Each box contains twelve doses, at 8 1-3 cts per dose. It is very mild in its operation, and may be taken in cases of the most acute inflammation without danger.—All external applications are in the highest degree disagreeable, inconvenient and offensive; and from the very nature of the disease, temporary in their effects. This Medicine attacks the disease at its source, and REMOVING THE CAUSE, renders the cure CERTAIN and PERMANENT.

INFLAMMATORY DISEASES.

Although the ELECTUARY was originally prepared for the cure of Piles, yet it has proved itself a medicine far superior to all others, in all diseases of an inflammatory character, with a determination of blood to any particular part or organ. In inflammation and congestion of the Liver and Spleen, Inflammation, Soreness and Ulceration of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Bladder, in inflammatory and mercurial Rheumatism, it is the Best Medicine ever discovered.

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD.

For all impurities of the Blood arising from the imprudent use of Mercury, or other causes, for all diseases of the Skin, and Scrofulous Affections, in all cases where the blood is powerfully determined to the head, producing dizziness and distress, DR. UPHAM'S ELECTUARY is entirely unrivalled.

TO MARRIED LADIES.

Married Ladies are almost invariably subject to that painful and injurious disease, the PILES, with consequent inflammation of the Stomach, Bowels and Spine, weakness of the back, flow of blood to the head, &c.—The Electuary is perfectly safe for Pregnant Ladies, and the most useful Cathartic that can possibly be used, as it will not only remove the Piles and all inflammatory diseases, WITHOUT PAIN or IRRITATION, but will ensure an easy time, a safe delivery, and a sound constitution in the offspring.

CURE FOR LIFE GUARANTIED.

The Electuary contains NO MINERAL Medicine, no Aloes, Colocynth, Gamboge, or other powerful and irritating purgatives. No fear of taking cold while under its influence, no change in diet necessary. If taken according to the directions, A CURE FOR LIFE IS GUARANTIED.

Pamphlets giving valuable information respecting this Medicine, may be had of Agents, gratis.

GREAT SUCCESS OF UPHAM'S PILE ELECTUARY.

Portland, Me., March 14, 1847.

Dr. UPHAM—My dear Sir—I cannot express to you my sincere and heartfelt thanks for the wonderful cure I have experienced by the use of your truly valuable Pile Electuary. I have been a perfect martyr to the Bleeding Piles for 10 years past, so much so that I became reduced to almost a skeleton, with loss of appetite, and general derangement of the digestive organs. My eyes also became affected, and in fact I was a martyr to myself. I was obliged to give up my business. I had tried all kinds of medicine, had the best advice the Doctors in Boston and this place could afford, spent much money—and twice submitted to painful operations. I had become perfectly tired of life, and at the suggestion of my friends I was induced to try a box of your medicine. The first I found to relieve me slightly; still I persevered, and purchased a second, and I assure you, when I got half through, I found myself getting well, still I kept on, and now I am a well man. My dear Sir, language cannot express the heartfelt thanks that I am once more restored to health, and now in a condition to support my large family, dependent on me.

You can use this letter as you please.

Yours respectfully, SAMUEL CHARLTON.
